As you can all see, i've installed an IRCClient onto the board, this client uses Java.

Â

To make use of this client, you must add your login info into the IRC fields in your profile.

Â

This should allow those who have never used IRC before to get into the beta chats and discuss.

Cool idea squall. Java clients suck compared to the real deal [img] <fileStore.core_Emoticons>/emoticons/tongue.png[/img]/emoticons/tongue@2x.png 2x" width="20" height="20" />, but they sure do make life easier for those just wanting a quick peak and those who are not familiar with IRC...or lazy people like me who don't want to join a different server [img] <fileStore.core_Emoticons>/emoticons/tongue.png[/img]/emoticons/tongue@2x.png 2x" width="20" height="20" />.

Awesome. I just tried it out and it seems cool. Nobody was chatting at the time though.

Question, what server and channel? ^^

Â

I'm kinda too lazy to keep the browser open when wanting to chat ^^

Â

And I kind of think I haven't installed Java. (checks) Yeah I was right, I haven't, and I'm too lazy to do this because I don't use it for anything atm, so... Well you get the picture.
